Description
At the eleventh meeting of the independent gas transmission stakeholder user group, the members evaluated the October business plan submission. This assessment included areas where the business plan has improved since July 2019 and topics where there are still gaps and outstanding challenges. The members provided their feedback to National Grid Gas Transmission, and also recorded their views in an interim report. The independent stakeholder user group also continue to develop their report for December 2019. The next meeting is the 21st November 2019.
